Friday, 13 December de 2024

Thesis: “Women victims of human trafficking in prison in Ecuador: legal and phenomenological analysis of human trafficking for forced criminality”.

On December 13 took place the defense of the Doctoral Thesis by M. Elena Castillo Ramos, entitled “Women victims of human trafficking in prison in Ecuador: legal and phenomenological analysis of human trafficking for forced criminality”, at the Faculty of Law, Economics and Tourism, directed by the Professor of Criminal Law, Dr. Carolina Villacampa Estiarte, within the framework of the Doctoral Program in Law and Business Administration.